BIO

Music for the space between feeling everything and saying nothing — “hard enough for the floor, honest enough to stay with you after.”

GLASHER is an emerging electronic music producer operating at the intersection of Trap and Future Bass (and known to get “housey”). With releases through Dim Mak Records (Steve Aoki’s storied label), a Beatport charting single, and multiple guest mix spots at Dim Mak Studios on iHeart Radio, GLASHER is building early-stage momentum with credible industry validation behind him.

GLASHER, the phonetic of ‘glacier’, an extremely large mass of ice which moves very slowly, often down a mountain valley.
